REFORM MEANS "THE OFFICES "

The sub-committee on resolutions of the Otio democratic convention, after wrangling all night over the platform, was unable to agree, and referred the whole matter to the full com mittee next morning. It is understood that the dissension arose over the question whether the esident should be consured or not for the rwness with which he is giving the offices to democrats. Every republican yet remaining in office is to every democrat a spectacle that moves to envy and wrath, as did that of Mordecal sit-The coel heads no doubt pointed out to the hos-The coei heads no doubt pointed out to the hos-beads that the way to get the offices was to keep on begging for them, rather than to storm and threaten and under this advice a resolu-tion was carried, which congratulates the ad-migistration "on the suspicious beginning it has made in the necessary reforms of the gov-ernment." That simply means that a begin him has hear meder of putture or a southlesses. ning has been made of putting out republi and putting in democrats, and that the true principles of reform require the process to continue till not a republican remains.

tion, evidently in the hope of placating the Ohio democrats, has been moving more rapidly than in making removals and ments. A dispatch from Washington to the Boston Advertiser (Mugwump) says that the postoffice department will make at least 2500 changes during the current month, which is a prefty good "ordinat," since it keeps all hangs in the department busy ten hours a day to torn in and out 400 postmassers. If the names by 100 men are simply handed in early in the norning, it will take the entire day to make out their commissions, make the entries on the books and notify the removed parties. In conwere as many as 100 persons removed from one department in a single day This, observe, is mugwamp testimony. A full proportion by the changes are those of Ohio postmasters, in recent dispatch from Washington to the Cmothnati Enquirer (Dem.) says "Among arrivals here to day is Jamee Hossack, private secretary to Service Berna. However, in the latest and the control of the control for Payne. He brings with him a lo int of names of applicants for postoffices in the swerair republican districts in thio. It is said that selections have been made of those whom the senator desires appointed, and the applica-tions of these will be endorsed and their cases called up for action at once." This, evidently, is what has equiped the democrata of Ohio There is method then in the "endor of the administration by Ohio democrats. It is said that only about one-third of the offices in that state have as yet been given out to the faithful as rewards for their party service. With the other two-thrule in expectancy would it do to show eigns of displeasure toward the giver? The Otho themocrats have restrained insmestive by the reflection that though this administration is trying their patience sorely by not giving them the offices as fast as they desire, yet as they have no possible way of getting them at all except through this administration, therefore, on the whole, it is best to 'endorse' it, partice, larly since the remainder is promised as soon as the commissions can be made out. Nevertheless, there is great restiveness all round. A dispatch from Washington to the St. Paul Globe (Dem.) says "The question of enforcement or repeal of the ciril service law is assuming fo little prominence \ince the all rent of the present administration, the demorais are not so well pleased with the civil service and now talk of a repeal or medification of the law as soon as the next session of congress is open. This sentiment has brought about by the experience

tion to the law has been very much strengthened ents of democratic congressmen have been made to feel its effect. These constituents who counted upon places under the new tave been disappointed, and in each case the congressman has charged disappointment to the convil service law by saying that it prevented bim from doing what he wanted to ' It is adnitted that it is bardly probable the law can be repenied, but a plan is detailed by which it is hoped it can be nullified. The Gubb a statement continues. Democratic congressment who have exchanged views here are in favor of Lodifying the act, so as to provide that any peron who may have a certificate showing that be or the has passed the regular examination, shall be eligible to appointment. By this plan demo-cratic congressmen would be enabled to get their friends and supporters who would be If would do away with the present method of baying the civil service commission send up four names where an appointment is to be main, and to open the field in all who may have certain-This would help democratic congress men by putting them in a position to teil cor The growing hostility to the law as it now ndicates that a change or at least &

This plan would merely make a furce of the law but as that is its transparent object there exists a manifest to pen it tout. The Broaklyn Kag, one of the most important democratic papers of the country, goes even further, by urging an an endment to be law which shall allow the appointing power to select the candidates for examination. This, it says would have the desired effect of keeping out all who are not democrats. Then it is insumatingly asks are not demornts. Then it insummingly assay. He wides this idea strike the magnum in mail. It would not interfere in the least with the rules for the determination of the fitness of applicants but it would protect the unimestral strike designs of scientifier a secret enemy rem the danger of admitting a secret enemy into the official household ?

These suggestions and discussions with which the whole democratic press of the country is now occupied, reveal the deep perturbation of the democratic mind of the country on the subject of the offices nor is it appears conceded r hs r by er forsaments, with inward pang and smothered out f an al-ministration that was expected to turn over tu the party workers all the others at once. The brothren, it should be remarked, have been get-ting them prelly fast, but they want them al!, and want them all now

It appears that the Fleidner ordinances requit og that half the property on a street must be represented in a petition for improvement before it a improvement is ordered, and furth r bat payment for street work must be undeonly from the street map rement fund, is blocking a game which contractors have found very prantable. Mr bleddier deserves the thanks if the community. The wrath of the cincra out against him should be accepted as a testimonnial of grood service for the public. On the local page of this paper will be found an account of the methods by which the contrast in 'worked things" before the Fliedner ordinances at pped them. There has been and is still a loosenose about the management of city affairs that amounts to practical descenses. Mayor trates

THE STAGE.

The Casivo—"Reep yourself anspotted from the wirld." Such was the key-note of the play presented last night by the Willack company It is a most effective adaptation by H Hamil ton of ounda's novel "Motha' and be, as the same nan o ! The adaptor has utilized it e most striking and dramatic scenes of the book, be guinary with the introduction of the young and pure Finghali girl, vera Harbed, into the vortex of fast is rable life at Trouville, and with skill is a sketched the rapid changes in her life from it at time to her marriage with the Fussian princs. The misery and humilation of her life with him, her final choice of isolation in the widts of "claim to submission to her husband's insults, her meeting with (orraze and Jurchiere; and final deliverance from her tyrant a powerful play, it was well acted throughout Miss Langa Billing as the hereful Ver Waster. THE STACE. A powerful play, it was well acted throughout Mass Lousse Dilion as the heroine, Vern Hurlet, afterwares the Princess Louront, has not appeared to such excellent advantage as she did last evening. In her dress of simple white, with earnest face and thoughtful eyes peer ng sherwards the Princess Zouron, has not appeared to such evening In her dress of simple white, with earnest face and thoughtful eyes peering upon a book as she enters from her ramble, she seemed the very embodiment of simplicity and virgin innocence. The audience is at once captivated with her, and as the play progresses and she submits to the grievous wrongs a mother streachers has heaped upon her true to her yow to keep herself good and rure, they are drawn along in sympathy with her, so admirably does she deput the sufferings of her woman's heart. In her stenes with her mother in the first and second acts, with Zouroff in the third set, she was hisenies and most forcible, and in hes last act she was touching in her womanly corrow mass litten an congratulate herself that she has achieved a signal triumph in Moths. Mr is B. Welles as the anstonatic tiler pet not leshcarted main, Lord Jura, did at have much to do, but did what there was with that earnestness and finish which charmsteries all his personations. An Unixcaused him considerable annovaries CCSIAN reporter met this gentleman restorday at the St. Charles hotel where he is stopping and had a jery pleasant and instructive inter-view. He is a reared San Francisco merchant, James Behrens by name, and an ardent lover of the science of entomology. He has spent his vacations and leisure pours for the

of the scenes of entomology. He has spent his vacations and leisure rours for the mast thirty years in collecting and classifying Lie meets of this coset. He has been in correspondence with the most notice enamies in the stance of entomology both in Europe and America, and by collecting and exchange of specimens, acquired a vary extensive and complete collection of the sects. About four years age he packed up his entire cabinet collection which filled 5.0 cabinet boxes, and shipped it to his native town, the americant free city of Lubeck, Germany, as a present to the massum there. He has since continued to anuse himself in his leisure time in making another collection, which already numbers many thousand specimens He does it is principally for the bonnent of the many a tentists with whom he has long bean in correspondence and to whom it gives him pleasure to be alle to send any new or rare specimen he may secure.

He has been very succeptful here in collecting floctural insects, the style of electric street lighting in voyue here giving, him great radiities in that respect. The lamps, being strappeded from wires strong diagnonally across the intersections of streets, have to be fowered every morning to be cleaned and new carbons put in and each lamp contains many insects which, hered by the bright light, have entered the glass gibts during these lamps. Numbers of them are fleend, others still light, who we carried over the wires to the impassion of them are fleend, others still light who will be cauged over the wares to the impassion of the wares to the impassion of the property of the section of the property of the pr ing noctornal Insects is a perfect bonance for Mr Behrenz, Formerly these insects were only to be caught when attracted into a room by a lamp, or by a first or light outloors. The electric lights in most places are hung on tail poets, and insects caught in them cannot be secured conveniently, but the style of them here seems to have been invented for the especial benefit of the entomologist.

During his stay here Mr Behrens has collected several digar boxes full of insects, some of them rare. Among them are no nerous moths, some often rare. Among them are no nerous moths, some often rare also water besties, which inhabit creeks and ponds during the day and go forth to "whee their droning flight" during the night. Upon the reporter tailing him of the bestles writch made their appearance in such large numbers around the light on the electro mast some time sinca, he at once defly drew a sketch of that insect as life-like he possible. He will probably reman here some time longer to enjoy the au usual facilities afforded him by our street lamps for increasing his collection.

What Oregon Will Show to the People of the Western States: and the Names of Those who Contributed to the Collection

Early in the peak, just after the organ ratum of the immigration countities by the Reriland board of trade, the idea of puriting an innitigration bureau on wheels and sending it on a missionary tour through some of the states east of the Rockies, presented itself to the members as being a feasible practical effort.

For obvious reasons a plan like this why only made possible through the courtesy of failway agents and managers, in offering the use of a car and transportation free The car, a very bandsome baggage teach, was obtained of the Union Pacefio and the Oregon Short Line, throughthe efforts of Mr. B. Campbell, agent of the lister road in this city. These the plan was agreed upon, the details began to take shape and every effort of the board was put forth to make such a collection of grains, grasses, fruits, and coursely details of grains, grasses, fruits, and constants. make such a collection of grains, grasses, fruits
